

ACS Government Records Management We Sell Services. We Deliver Solutions.

Who We Are. The Government Records Management division of ACS, A Xerox Company, has an established reputation as America's largest land records company. Our core business is government land records management. We are unique in being a single-source provider of all the products and services needed by clerks, recorders and registers. We do it all, under one roof, using no subcontractors.

What We Do

We're the only company in America that provides not only computerized government records management systems on a variety of platforms, but also all the micrographic, digital imaging and related services that clerks, recorders and registers need – entirely in-house and under our complete control.

We offer every conceivable service, including:

- High-speed film-to-image and image-to-film conversion
- Security microfilming
- Land record microfilm storage
- Kodak-monitored archival film laboratories
- CopyFlo™ process land record book re-creation services
- Compact books
- Custom data conversions
- Land record re-indexing and index verification services
- Internet hosting and delivery of land records
- Electronic recording
- Redaction
- Auto-indexing
- Tape storage
- Duplication services
- And much more.

Where We Are

Our headquarters are in Dallas, TX, with additional offices in Syracuse, NY, and Stone Mountain, GA.

Our People

Over 400 government records management-focused employees include:

- Project managers
- Hardware and software support personnel
- Systems managers

Our Recent Successes

Richmond County, NY

For 18 years, we've helped Richmond County, New York, to record and store its land documents that date back to colonial times. Once using a labor-intensive "bucket" system of moving paper files, our client now enjoys computerized convenience.

Denton County, TX

Preserving land and vital statistics records, dating back centuries, is of utmost importance. Denton County, Texas, needed a partner it could trust to provide a records management system to scan, index, store and provide a microfilm archival copy for more than 1.2 million records. The County Clerk chose us 10 years ago and never looked back. (<http://www.think-acis-inc.com/videos>)
